Why do Artists Paint Portraits?

Sometimes artists are asked to create a portrait for somebody. They may get paid to do so.

Sometimes artists create portraits of somebody they admire or love.

Portrait of an Infant
(1881)
by Renoir

In the past, portraits were mostly used to memorialize rich and powerful people like kings and queens. This meant the world would remember them after they died.

An artist often tries to show the person's character so a portrait might show how important someone is, or how kind, or strong.

What is a Self-Portrait?

A self-portrait is when an artist makes a picture of himself or herself.

Leonardo da Vinci used chalk on paper.

Andy Warhol used photography and screen printing.

Vincent Van Gogh used paint and swirling brush strokes.

What do You See?

To create a self portrait you need to look at your face and think about what you see.

Practise looking at your partner.

What colour are their eyes?

What colour is their hair?

How high up are their eyes?
